

PUDDLE DOCK VILLAGE FESTIVAL

JOURNEYS END, JOURNEYS BEGIN

Tuesday, July 8, 5:00-6:30 PM

George & Susan Mason's Home
123 Borland Hill Road, Nobleboro, ME

Through art, poetry, and personal testimony, a mother and doctor recount a young man's life—his warmth, struggles, and overdose—in a powerful story of trauma, love, and resilience.

This event is presented as part of the Puddle Dock Village Festival, an arts & humanities project in support of community justice and wellbeing taking place July 5 through August 3.

Program

5:00-5:15

Welcome from Susan Mason, introduction from Peter Bruun, and remarks from exhibiting artist Keith Plummer.

5:15-5:45

Alison Hartman is joined by Dr. Shapir Rosenberg to present a deeply human reflection on abuse, addiction, loss, and healing in a performance that includes images, music, and poetry.

5:45-6:30

An audience conversation on issues raised by the performance.

Free and open to the public
